

POLARIS

EASY TO USE POINT OF SALE FOR YOUR SERVICE STATION

“Having a reliable and easy to use point of sale system is essential for every service station”

It's a known fact that the less time a customer spends waiting, the more they'll be satisfied. This means you need to be able to reduce customer queues, both on the forecourt and in the store.

When staff turnover is high, you need to be able to train new staff on the point of sale within minutes. And with a high risk of theft for items in the c-store and of fuel, you need to be able to minimise and manage that risk.

Polaris is a point of sale solution which lets you manage your customers, staff and stock with ease. It includes a PC, touch screen point of sale, customer display, barcode scanner, receipt printer & cash drawer.

It will reduce waiting times on the forecourt and in the store. With the large graphic display, new users can be trained within minutes. Pumps can be quickly placed into pre-pay or staff authorisation mode, minimising your risk of drive-offs. And with specifically designed security features, you'll be able to prevent theft and fraud before it occurs.

Polaris reduces the everyday challenges of running a service station, so you have more time to focus on what's important to you in your business.

BUSINESS BENEFITS

Make Your Business More Efficient

The large graphic display means new users can be trained within minutes, and it can be operated as a touch screen or with a standard keyboard. Everyday keys and functions are all visible on the one screen, making it quicker for a staff member to complete a sale.

If your site has more than one point of sale, you can complete a fuel sale from any of the point of sale units. This will speed up customer service and reduce unnecessary wait time. The connection to your back office system is all in real time, allowing you to track the performance of your business as it happens.

Increase Your Profit

Polaris allows you to keep track of your sales and stock levels. You can identify slow movers, which means you'll be able to run successful promotions to keep excess stock to a minimum. You can accept cents per litre discounts on fuel to encourage customer loyalty and increase sales. Polaris will also manage all your local accounts, reducing unnecessary time spent on manual billing.

Keep Your Business Secure

The security features in Polaris allow you to restrict user access to functions like price overrides and discounting. It will let you do a full audit of staff actions including voids and deleting. You'll be able to prevent theft & fraud before it occurs. To enhance your security system, you can easily integrate Polaris to a Cash-Cam security camera system.

Continue Trading Even If Your System Goes Offline

Network outages occur at the most inconvenient times. Polaris will continue operating even if your back office server or pumps are down, allowing you to continue processing sales. You can restrict access to the underlying operating system, eliminating unwanted tampering that might cause the system to fail. When the network comes back online all your transactions will flow through to the back office as if nothing happened.

Plan For Future Growth

Polaris easily integrates to other devices, such as EFTPOS terminals. If a device needs upgrading, you can do so without losing your existing data or functionality on the point of sale. FUSION Transactive offers a number of add-ons or upgrades in its G5 range which integrate to the Polaris point of sale.

You can choose to add the G5 outdoor payment terminal for 24/7 operation of your site, a local accounts module or the Regulus forecourt controller. Or you can upgrade to the all-inclusive FUSION Transactive G5 site automation solution.
